

end users can be shielded from these choices for a class to be a component, it must inherit from pyre.component